

Liberty's Edge

Author of Independence ,

Andoran cannot see that it's corruption runs deep, and we must pull it out by the roots to prevent it from growing back. I have spoken with my superiors in the Eagle Knights, however it is not the role of a Steel Falcon to police his government's actions, for my order operates abroad to vanquish slavery and tyrants. I have taken a leave of absence to pursue justice without a national affiliation. My ties to Andoran only hamper what I can do to liberate my home and other lands, even though we still work closely with the Eagle Knights. The lessons we learn in the near future may provide us the key to ridding Andoran of corruption once and for all.

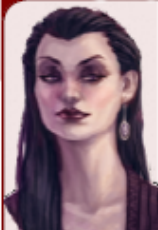

Season 6 goal: Fight corruption and tyranny wherever it appears.

In democracy's name,

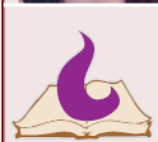

Major Colson Maldris

Dark Archive

Most loyal agent ,

Do you remember how so many finds disappear into one of the lodge's vaults under pretenses of their being "stored for later study" or "too great a threat to Golarion?" The Decemvirate is concerned that we have acquired too many such relics without anyone spending the time to give them proper examination. They took rather kindly to my suggestion that we found a dark archive to curate and maintain these collections, and we get the unique privilege of operating it. Before we can settle into our new role, I want to ensure that we have the proper training to avoid any catastrophes. That means making friends with other curators who are in the business of handling dangerous objects. I know I have a few in mind, and I have no interest in taking no for an answer.

Season 6 goal: Establish the Dark Archive's reputation with the Grand Lodge, and seek out skilled mentors to train the faction's curators.

Hell-speed,

Paracountess Zarta Dralneen

GRAND LODGE

Pathfinder,

Reports are just starting to come in from our expedition to Jormurdun. It sounds as though our agents found something quite spectacular in the sky citadel, but I've yet to get a straight answer out of the Master of Scrolls as to what that is. It sounds complicated and may require further study, and if that calls for more travel, you're one of the first agents I'll contact. In the meantime, we have a situation in Nantambu, one of the few lodges in the Mwangi Expanse. Venture-Captain Nieford Sharrowsmith has bitten off more than he can chew and has requested reinforcements, though he's been nearly impossible to locate magically since then. I don't like it, but we need to confirm that the lodge and its agents remain in good working order.

Season 6 goal: Follow up on recent developments in the Mwangi Expanse.

Good luck,

Venture-Captain Ambrus Valsin

Scarab Sages

Salutations ,

With the assistance of Amenopheus, we have taken important steps in reviving the order of the Jeweled Sages, who sought to preserve the art, culture, and technology of Osirion's first age. However, Golarion's people have grown in the millennia since, and with them grows the scope of our mandate. With the assistance of the Pathfinder Society, we shall discover, secure, and explore historical sites across Golarion—perhaps beyond. I must labor in the sages' sanctuary deep in Osirion. I have secured numerous rooms that were once sealed, but the compound is extensive; if the Pathfinder Society honors my recent request, I may soon call upon you and your colleagues to assist me in exploring the sanctum's depths. While I busy myself with that, Amenopheus is in charge of operations further afield.

Season 6 goal: Explore the Jeweled Sages' sanctum and seek lost relics of the order.

Tahonikepsu, the Diamond Sage

The Exchange

Honored Colleague ,

In other circumstances I might be anxious about the disarray on my desk, but instead I have good reason to be excited. When I meet with a dear friend tomorrow and sign on the dotted line, I will terminate my commission as an official representative of Qadira and create a new business—with you as a stakeholder. The Pathfinder Society has taken an interest in our young company, too, and I have a meeting with several investors from the Grand Lodge later this evening. As you travel abroad, remember to study the markets and build connections with well-established merchants. At an earlier meeting, someone mentioned the Mwangi Expanse, which has long been beyond our reach—until now.

Season 6 goal: Develop trade routes and contacts in western Garund.

Trade Prince Aaqir al'Hakam

Silver Crusade

Victorious Crusader ,

Tales of our courage at the Worldwound shall follow the crusaders home, where these stories will feed the imaginations of a new generation of heroes. This is not lost on the Society's leaders, and in addition to written promises of aid in future causes, I can tell that behind their unfeeling masks, they have witnessed the good that comes from aiding a holy cause! As you travel, remember that the Society's reputation is not the only thing worth redeeming. Show charity to the needy, and open the eyes of criminals, that they might cast aside their present misfortunes and pursue a virtuous life.

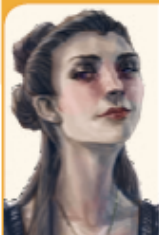

Season 6 goal: Serve as soldiers of peace by redeeming criminals, delivering aid to the afflicted, and handling the aftermath of the Mendevian crusade.

Dawnflower be with you,

Ollysta Zadrian

Sovereign Court

My Comrade in Arms ,

For millennia Taldor's nobility led the Inner Sea region in war and in peace, and the model of the enlightened, even-handed aristocrat is the ideal form of rule for most nations; however, we must accept that Taldor's elite are no long the shining example. In your mind's eye, remove them from that sacred pedestal. The Pathfinder Society is our ally in this regard. You and its many other agents travel far and wide and speak to many powerful people in the course of your work. Use these opportunities wisely to find like-minded aristocrats to join us, but exercise caution; if we move too openly, those uninterested in change may try to stop us.

Season 6 goal: Build alliances with nobles across the Inner Sea region.

For the Empire,

Lady Gloriana Morilla