

Investigate the Sunderson Site

What you Know:

- The Aspís raided a research laboratory hidden beneath a Nídalese plantation known as Wirholt's Ríctus. Few of the workers there seemed to know anything about the facility below.
- A known member of the Korholm Agenda would occasionally visit the site, but is believed that person perished during the raid.
- It appears the site enacted containment procedures during the raid, destroying some of the evidence before the Aspís team intervened. The Aspís agents left carrying a collection of magic items, documents, and even a few biological samples (all of unknown provenance.)
- Initial forays into the damaged facility found signs of occult research, but utterly alien creatures chased off the Pathfinder agents before they could learn anything of substance.

The Mission:

The Aspís Agents sent to raid Wirholt's Ríctus stole manyh of its most valuable secrets, yet there remains worthwhile occult information that a team could recover before the Aspís Consortium returns to clean up the site. Beware the alien fauna that still stalk the premises.

You may assign one of your pathfinder teams to this mission.

Investigate the Uskwood Site

What you know:

- The secondary facility just inside the Uskwood seems to be the smallest of the three, but any defenses it has are likely still operational.*
 - Nothing else is known.*

The mission:

The Uskwood is a dangerous place traversed by few, which is exactly what Professor Kramolag betted on when founding a concealed facility at the southern edge of the forest. Whoever travels here must contend with vindictive fey and the site's uncompromised defenses.

Investigate the Wingless Rock Site

What you Know:

- The main facility is 40 miles off Nidal's coast, on a black skerry known as Wingless Rock. It's a small barren island partly surrounded by dangerous reefs and other mundane hazards that discourage visitors.
- Knowledge [geography or local] may know more about Wingless Rock.

The Mission:

You may take one or two teams with you to Wingless Rock for a mission to be determined as needed based on local circumstances.
